ROSSELL NEXT MEETING PLACE

The Presbyterian Synod of New Mexico and Arizona, which has been holding its annual session at Las Vegas the past week, adjourned yesterday afternoon. Roswell was chosen as the next meeting place. The session just closed was the most largely attended and successful in the history of the synod. The most important work accomplished by the synod was the passing of resolutions providing for the immediate establishment of anti-saloon leagues in New Mexico and Arizona under the leadership of Rev. W. W. Havens, of the Anti-Saloon League of America; and the passage of a memorial addressed to congress asking that legislation be at once enacted to prohibit gambling in the territories. The temperance resolution is as follows:

Temperance Resolution.
A very strong resolution on temperance and gambling in the territories was presented by a committee on resolutions, composed of Revs. J. C. Reid and John Morley and adopted by the synod at the morning session. The resolution in full was as follows: "To the Synod of New Mexico, 'Brethren: Your committee on temperance notes with satisfaction the growth of temperance sentiment throughout the synod, as well as the forward movement in our churches in the country at large in pushing temperance work and fostering temperance sentiment."

"We especially congratulate the synod upon its arrival within its borders of Rev. W. W. Havens, representing the Anti-Saloon League of America, and wish our brother good-speed in his labors."

"We recommend as follows: 1. That we urge our ministers and churches to give to Brother Havens and to the anti-saloon league all possible assistance and co-operation, and that synod elect three delegates to a convention to be held at the city of Albuquerque on the call of Brother Havens, for the organization of an anti-saloon league in the two territories, and that such delegates be authorized by synod to choose a director for such league representing the synod upon its board; that the delegates to such convention shall be Rev. Geo. F. Sevier, Rev. John Morley and F. C. Reid."

"2. That the subject of temperance be made more prominent in the pulpits of our churches within the synod, and especially that the morning service on World's Temperance Sunday, in November next, be devoted to the consideration of some phase of the temperance cause."

"3. That we continue to use the press of these two territories, but with increased diligence, as a means of disseminating temperance, truth and argument."

"4. That our ministers and members give special attention in their respective communities to securing the enforcement of existing temperance laws."

"5. That we are unalterably opposed to the system now in vogue within these two territories, of licensing gambling and that we memorialize our national congress to pass such legislation as will absolutely prohibit gambling of every nature, within the territories of the United States and that we request the congregations of the synod to join in such memorial."

"6. That we urge upon the towns and cities within the bounds of synod, that they owe it to themselves as a matter of self respect, and for the vindication of their good names, to suppress this great evil of gambling by municipal legislation."

"8. That a column of temperance matter be set apart in La Aurora, the material for such column to be supplied by synod's temperance committee and to consist of both English and Spanish contributions."

"Respectfully submitted,
"F. C. REID,
"JOHN MORLEY,
"Committee."

Memorial to Congress.
The Presbyterian Synod for the territories of New Mexico and Arizona, drew up a memorial to congress at its morning session yesterday calling attention to the open licensed gambling in the territories, describing the evil and asking for its suppression by stringent laws, before the territories are given statehood. The memorial is as follows:

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the United States:

"The Synod of New Mexico, now in annual congregation at Las Vegas, N. M., respectfully presents this memorial to your honorable body, and represents that for many years, open public gambling has existed and now exists in the territories of Arizona and New Mexico; that such gambling is licensed, under the present acts of the legislature of these territories and is a great and growing evil, which should be suppressed. All other states of the United States have passed stringent laws, prohibiting gambling and it yet remains for some laws to be enacted which will prohibit such gambling in the territories of the United States."

"We believe that the suppression of this great evil can only be accomplished in the near future, by the passage of an act of congress, prohibiting gambling in the territories of the United States. The existence of public gaming houses in any present American community, in the present age, is contrary to the spirit of our times, and of our boasted civilization. "We also believe that such an act should be passed by congress prior to the passage of any statehood bill, as proposed by congress for the reason that should statehood be granted to the territories of Arizona and New Mexico, before the suppression of open public gambling, many years would elapse before the legislature or legislatures of the new states would cope with the evil."

"We, therefore, respectfully memorialize your honorable bodies to immediately pass such act as may seem most expedient, to accomplish the suppression of the gambling evil in the territories of the United States."

It was moved that this memorial to congress be signed by the moderator and stated clerk of the synod and copies forwarded to the speaker of the house of representatives and to the president of the United States senate at Washington, D. C., respectively and other religious bodies of the territory were requested to similarly memorialize congress.

MARKET LETTER

Special Correspondence.
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 9.—More than $2,000,000 cattle came in last week and conditions were more favorable to sellers than they have been for some time. Country buyers were more active than any week before this season, and packer buyers competed with them for some medium fleshy steers, on account of scarcity of desirable killing steers of all classes. These cattle have formerly gone to the feeders without question. The result was an advance on all kinds of steers of 10 to 20c. Cows declined about 10c, as large numbers of them were received from northern Texas and Colorado. Some heavy mountain cows sold at $2.60 and a string of U. S. cows from Channing, Texas, sold Friday at $2.60, the buyers among them at $1.90 and bulk of the medium to common cows at $2.20 to $2.50. A majority of the range steers, both for killing and for the country, sold at $2.75 to $3.35, with a few strings of desirable stockers and feeders up to $3.60. Calf receipts were lighter and prices 25c higher, especially for heifer calves, not too heavy, which had to be substituted for light calves, which are hard to get. The run of cattle today was 2,000 and the market was active on all classes. A large number of prospective buyers are attending the American live stock show, which opens here today.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were 31,000 last week, against 57,000 the previous week, and prices advanced about 25c, as the demand was strong from all sources. The supply is moderate today, being 6,500 head; market strong and active. Some Utah ewes, weighing 102 pounds, sold at 4.75, another string at $4.60 and lambs at 37c. Weathers sold late last week at $4.85, yearlings at $5, but topy stuff will bring above these figures. The country demand is as strong as ever, breeding ewes bringing $4.25 to $4.50, wethers and yearlings up to $4.75 and feeding lambs $5.50 to $6.25. A new packing house was opened last week, the American Dressed Beef and Provision company, making eleven large plants now in operation here. The demand for all classes of sheep and lambs is such and the market so snappy, that predictions favor some further advances in the near future.

TULAROSA MINING USES WATER POWER.

William Courtney, who had been at work at the Tularosa Mining and Development company's plant, about ten miles above Tularosa, for the past two or three months, came home the first of the week. The plant is ready to start operations as soon as the motive power is installed. This will consist of two Blazer water power motors, which have arrived and will be put in at once.

THE ARMY RATION.

A Good Suggestion From an Old Soldier.
The government has been experimenting for some years seeking a condensed food to be used by soldiers in case of emergency when the army shall cut loose from its base of supplies and cast off its wagon trains and the troops shall carry their rations for a number of days in their haversacks. While some progress has been made the problem has not yet been solved.

A veteran from the Civil war, writing from New England, says in this connection: "I have been using Grape-Nuts food for some time, and my liking for it increases with use. I find it extremely palatable, and not only digestible, but an aid to the digestion of other food which used to give me trouble."

"What has particularly struck me is the fact that a very small quantity of it is sufficient for the entire meal—that I really need no other food. It is my custom to begin my breakfast with two heaping tablespoonsful of Grape-Nuts with cream. By the time I have eaten that I find that my appetite has been completely satisfied. I feel the comfortable sensation of one who has breakfasted wisely and well, and while I sometimes eat a little of other things, I do it more as a matter of habit than anything else. I find that I can go to bed at night with two tablespoonsful of Grape-Nuts and cream alone, and what is also an important consideration, without any uncomfortable sense of fullness such as I usually feel when I eat my old style breakfast. Especially this so if I drink a cup of good hot Postum Coffee with a meal, for I must confess the old kind of coffee fills me full of gas and discomfort for some hours after I drink it."

"Now it has occurred to me that Grape-Nuts food ought to be added to the army ration for the reason that it furnishes so much satisfying, nourishing food in such small bulk. A soldier with a package of Grape-Nuts in his haversack would have a food supply adequate for several days of marching and fighting. It wouldn't take up much room and the weight is nothing."

"There's a reason."

THE PAJARITO CLIFF
DWELLERS' PARK

The Order Excluding Tourists
From Reservation Has Been Modified.

PERMITS ARE GIVEN TO VISIT PUYE

It will be remembered that the president of the United States, by proclamation, dated July 29, 1905, created a reservation for the use and benefit of the inhabitants of the Pueblo of Santa Clara, in southern Rio Arriba county, the territory, set aside for that reservation about 33,000 acres, and in which is a section of country in which part of the cliff dwellers of the Puye Mesa are situated. In transmitting the order of the president to Superintendent Clinton J. Crandall, of the United States Indian training school, at Santa Fe, in whose jurisdiction the Pueblo of Santa Clara is situated, the Indian office gave strict instructions that no outsider should be allowed on the reservation, forbidding the cutting of timber, except by Indians, and the digging, uncovering and taking away of archaeological and ethnological objects on the reservation and in the Puye Mesa cliff dwellings.

Mr. Crandall represented to the Indian office, that there are many interested people who desire to visit the Puye Canyon cliff dwellings, and that many of these came from great distances from the states to do so, and that it would be well for the public interests were the order absolutely to exclude visitors to be modified in favor of such and making other recommendations in the direction of preserving the ruins, keeping trespassers off and preventing destruction, defacement and taking of archaeological and ethnological objects found thereon.

Mr. Crandall has just received instructions from the commissioner of Indian affairs authorizing him to grant permits to scientists, tourists and other persons interested in ethnology and archaeology and to responsible parties to visit the locations and the cliff dwellings under written permits to be issued by him on application and under the supervision of the farmer in charge or his subordinates. Mr. Crandall will be obliging in the matter of issuing permits, as he possibly can, but, naturally, must insist upon strict obedience to the requirements made by the Indian office, and the existing regulations in such cases made and provided by proper authorities.

The following business was had: The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Full discussion was had upon applications for land for grazing purposes, but no action was taken. The commission recommended speedy action by the government in regard to the building of the Avalon dam near Carlsbad. The board then adjourned until the afternoon at 3 o'clock, when final disposition of all matters before the commission was to be made.
